

Canadian National Sportsmen's Shows

Coronavirus (COVID-19) Update

The health, safety and well-being of exhibitors and attendees is our top priority. We are closely monitoring the direction from the Region of Peel Public Health (please note that International Centre is located in the City of Mississauga which falls under the Region of Peel). Peel Public Health has assessed the public health risk associated with the Coronavirus (COVID-19) and has determined the risk is low for the region.

As a result, the Toronto Sportsmen's Show will be continuing as planned.

In addition to regular health and safety procedures, the following additional measures are being implemented for the Toronto Sportsmen's Show.

- The International Centre has installed additional alcohol-based hand sanitizer stations in key high-traffic areas
- Additional cleaning staff has been hired to allow for enhanced cleaning in the lobbies, common areas, food service areas and washrooms. The best cleaning disinfectants against the virus are being used
- The International Centre has installed signage in washrooms reminding attendees of hygiene recommendations

Personal Precautions and Practices

The World Health Organization has provided a number of recommendations for good personal hygiene measures which include proper hand washing, and covering your mouth and nose when coughing or sneezing. Taking these preventive measures are deemed to be the best protection.

Rest assured that we are working closely with the International Centre and remaining in contact with Peel Public Health to monitor this situation.
